Response for Many Origins

This essay will discuss how the recruiting tactics of “Recruiting Settlers to Carolina, 1666”, is similar to the mentality of America today. First off the text included 6 reasons for settlers to move into Caroline, first no questions asked religious freedom, second freedom from being forced to do indentured servitude for 7 years, third, free land 100 acres per person if they transport themselves, fourth after a servant finished their time they are given some acres, fifth no higher up can enforce taxes, lastly people in power will be dedicated to supporting the people. A core governing principle in the US is religious freedom. The US and Caroline 1666 both had religious freedom, had no slavery, ability to build wealth/riches, and had a democratic government working for the people.
